Dear Pastor,

Is there a need in your church for sinners to repent, backsliders to return to God? Is there a need in your congregation for sick bodies to be healed and for those who are in bondage to be delivered? Does your congregation appreciate and want anointed singing and a powerful move of God? Then this letter may be a divine connection.

My name is Tiffany Elliott an ordained minister of the Gospel and I minister under an anointing that is a unique combination of music and Word. I began singing in church at age three and I knew the call of God on my life to the five-fold ministry by the age of 13. Growing up as a preacher's kid I faced many obstacles in the church and spent some years in early adulthood running from God. However once I made a decision to surrender completely to His will, God began to move in my life.

I graduated from Life Christian University and have worked for several years now at West Virginia Christian University as an instructor as well as the Dean of Administration and Assistant Director.

During a ministers' conference in July of 2005, the Lord released me to fulfill my life-long dream of fulltime ministry. Since that time I have stepped into a higher level of anointing. Just as the Spirit of the Lord was upon Jesus as he ministered from the book of Isaiah in Luke 4:18. I too am seeing the same things happen in my meetings.

The Lord is using my testimony to break off the chains of condemnation that many in the body face due to the shame and guilt of their past. The Gifts of the Spirit are in manifestation and during altar services I have seen phenomenal healings take place as well as several people filled with the Holy Ghost. Backsliders have come to the altars in these meetings under an evangelistic anointing for repentance, reconciliation and deliverance. There has truly been a move of the Spirit.

But that's not all. My preaching ministry is accentuated with the anointing of a psalmist. My first CD entitled "I Will Never Leave You" has just recently been released. I believe this music will bring the anointing directly into the homes and vehicles of those who listen.

I am asking you to consider making time in your church's schedule to allow me to bless your people in Word and/or in Song. I will also be contacting you by phone in the near future to confirm this letter. Thank you for taking the time to read and prayerfully consider having us share this ministry with you.

May God richly bless you,

Minister Tiffany Elliott
